

A 4x4 grid of boxes. The first row contains the number 1 in the first box, and empty boxes in the second, third, and fourth columns. The second row contains empty boxes in the first and second columns, followed by a greater-than symbol (>) and the number 2 in the third box, and an empty box in the fourth column. The third row contains empty boxes in the first and second columns, followed by the number 4 in the third box, and empty boxes in the fourth column. The fourth row contains empty boxes in the first, second, and third columns, followed by a greater-than symbol (>) and an empty box in the fourth column. Comparison symbols are placed between boxes: a greater-than symbol (>) between the second and third boxes of the second row, a less-than symbol (<) between the third and fourth boxes of the third row, and a greater-than symbol (>) between the third and fourth boxes of the fourth row.
