

A scatter plot on a 10x10 grid. The grid is defined by light gray lines. There are 30 data points, each represented by a small circle with a black outline and a white fill. The points are distributed across the grid, with a higher concentration in the central area and fewer points near the corners. The points are scattered, with some appearing in pairs or small clusters.